This musical score is written for a single melodic line in G major (one sharp). It consists of 14 staves of music. The notation includes various musical symbols such as treble clefs, key signatures, and a variety of note values including eighth, sixteenth, and thirty-second notes. The score is characterized by frequent use of ornaments, specifically mordents and grace notes, which are placed above certain notes to indicate trills or grace notes. The piece begins with a series of eighth-note patterns. A repeat sign appears after the sixth staff, with first and second endings marked '1.' and '2.' respectively. The first ending leads back to an earlier section, while the second ending concludes the piece. The score ends with a double bar line and repeat dots. The overall style is that of a classical or romantic-era instrumental piece, possibly for a flute or violin.
